NUMBER 15.

Another Sad Death.

Last week we recorded the sudden and distressing death at Campbells-ville of Rev. S. G. Shelley, and this week we are called upon to write the demise of his sister-in-law, which occurred in the same home as did the passing of Rev. Shelley, a few hours later.

Mrs. Mell Bennett, who was a sister of Mrs. Shelley, had come from Breckenridge county to make her home with her sister. While Rev. Shelly was very sick with pneumonia Mrs. Bennett was taken with the same malady, and died in a few hours after friends had started to Breckenridge county with the remains of Rev. Shelley. A message of the death of Mrs. Bennett was sent to the funeral party, and a stop was made until the body of Mrs. Bennett could reach them, in order that the remains of the two could reach Bew-leville at the same time.

Mrs. Bennett was about seventy years old and a fine Christian woman and a devout member of the Methodist Church. A lady in this town who was well acquainted with the deceased, says she was one of the best women she ever knew.

Mrs. Shelly is bravely standing the double shock. Full of love for the God she worships, she takes her sorrow to Him.

Big Public Sale.

Four farms and Personal property, Tuesday, Feb. 10th, 10 a. m., 1920.

At my farm 1 mile West of Russell Springs, on the Sano road, I will offer for sale to the highest bidder the following property:

12 stacks of hay; 30 bu. oats; 10 head of calves and yearlings; farming tools consisting of one wheat drill; one corn drill; 1 disc harrow; one mowing machine; one farm wagon, 24; 1 buck-board and harness; 1 telephone and stock; 1 organ, good as new; household and kitchen goods. I will also sell my farm where I live in three separate tracts.

FIRST TRACT.—Contains 13 acres with good 6 room house and good 40 x 44 ft. barn, also good outbuildings.

SECOND TRACT.—Contains about 50 acres, all good land, 30 acres in meadow, 10 acres in woodland, balance in corn last year, mostly level.

THIRD TRACT.—Contains about 45 acres, mostly cleared, some in grass, about 6 acres woodland.

FOURTH TRACT.—A farm about 24 miles east of Russell Springs, near Fairview Church, known as the Mat Popplewell farm, containing 110 acres; 75 acres in cultivation, balance in timber. This farm has a good 3-room house, good barn and other outbuildings; splendid orchard, well watered.

Any one interested in buying a farm should look this land over before the day of sale. Terms made known on day of sale.

LUTHER BROCKMAN,
Russell Springs, Ky.

For several weeks it has been noticed that a number of small boys have been playing about the square and streets of this town during school hours. If they have not entered school their parents should at once enter them, if they have entered and are playing "hooky" their parents should take them home, give them a good spanking, and then see that they remain in school. There is a compulsory school law and it should be obeyed.

If there are persons in this county who are opposed to spending money for good roads, they should have traveled over the highways last week. The condition the roads were in would certainly convince them that work and much of it is badly needed.

Miss Stora Hutchison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hutchison, who left here for the South, two weeks ago, seeking a school, writes her parents that she has accepted a school in Denver, Ga. The salary is satisfactory.

Well Pleased With Texas.

Mr. J. W. Moran, of this county, recently returned from Whitewright, Texas, where he has three sons living. Two left here with only enough money to pay their railroad fare, but they have succeeded remarkably well in the Lone Star State.

Two of his sons have bought and paid for farms and have them well stocked. The other son is renting, but he has made and has on hand enough money to buy a good farm which he will do later.

Mr. Moran says that Texas is a wonderful State, that he met quite a number of former Kentuckians while there and that they were all in good shape and in a prosperous condition.

Grist Mill for Sale.

It has Truck Burrs, 6 horse oil engine, Fairbanks Morse make, good as new.

Better Than Expected.

Mr. W. R. Lyon, representing the Buchanan Lyon Company, Campbells-ville, was in Columbia last Thursday. He informed The News that their branch store at this place did a very satisfactory business during the year 1919, and the Company expected to do a much larger business this year. He stated that the firm was well pleased with the management here. He also informed us that his firm would open a branch wholesale house at Greensburg the first of March, and it would occupy the John A. Hobson business house, which is a large commodious brick, on the public square. Mr. Lyon evidently believes that 1920 is going to be a good year for business.

The Louisville Herald, a few days ago, contained this item:—Dr. Forrest Gabbert yesterday telegraphed Louisville friends that he had closed a deal for 165 acres of land in Wayne county. Ninety acres of the tract are situated next to the Cumberland River and Dr. Gabbert will build a summer home there. The acreage is located in the famous limestone region and Dr. Gabbert plans an extensive development of his holdings. He will raise livestock and tobacco. Dr. Gabbert is a son of Dr. Z. T. Gabbert, of Casey Creek, this county.

L. M. Smith has purchased of T. A. Firkin, Cane Valley, the latter's store house, stock of goods, and dwelling and he is now in possession. He also bought the store-room opposite this property which was owned by Jake Bault, and will handle a general line of merchandise and farming implements. Mark Wilson purchased the blacksmith shop from Jake Bault.

Miss Annie L. Branham, daughter of J. H. Branham, Breeding, is some what of a tobacco grower. She sold, on the Campbellsville market, last Wednesday, 235 pounds of white burley. The highest basket brought her $96 per cwt, and the lowest $10.00. The crop brought her $105.77. This was all grown by the girl.

A great many people attended the Burdette mule sale, this place, Monday. About forty head were sold. In the last year Mr. Burdette has sold here and at other neighboring towns something like thirty thousand dollars worth of mules. He is a fine judge of stock. It takes him but a minute to value a mule.

Mr. Sam Lewis, while in Louisville, last week, sold four thousand six hundred dollars worth of fur. Mr. Lewis states that there were a good many buyers on the market.

The death of Mr. I. S. Taylor, that recently occurred in the Fairplay county, removes from Adair county a good citizen, a true friend and a splendid neighbor. Mr. Taylor was twice married, his last wife being a sister of Mr. Austin Loy.

If the weather remains fair, many tobacco growers will start their plant beds the last of this week. An effort will be made to grow more this year than in 1919.

Death Near Craycraft.

The death of Wellington Redman, which occurred near Craycraft, last Monday night week, was a surprise to the people of this town who knew him well. He was sixty years old, and his entire life was spent in the community where he died. He was a son of John Redman, who died many years ago. He belonged to a family of reading people, especially modern and ancient history, and Wellington was well posted in the writings of some of the noted historians. One of his brothers informed The News that he had been afflicted for two years. He was kind to his family, consisting of a wife and two small boys. He leaves a farm of about ninety acres and some stock.

Machine Gun—Drawing Card.

Four or five hundred people came to Columbia last Saturday to see a machine gun in operation, as was previously advertised. The recruiting officers, who are here, had the gun sent out from Camp Knox. It has a capacity for shooting six hundred times in a minute, and it was this character of gun that had much to do with defeating the German army.

Before the gun was put in operation, Mr. Nackle, of Hardin county, a native of Germany, delivered a lecture at the court-house, his subject being "What Constitutes a Man." The speaker, though of foreign birth and rearing, is thorough American, and is in the service of the Government, and is ready and willing to do all in his power to aid his adopted country. His lecture was full of interest and highly appreciated by the several hundred men who heard him. He said that the United States Government was the best in the world, and gave better protection to her soldiers in the way of feeding and clothing than any other country.

After the lecture the machine gun was carried to the bluff beyond Mr. Allen Walker's residence and fired about 250 times for the edification of hundreds. Targets were put up about 150 yards away and the gunner tore them to pieces with the rapidly firing gun. The machine was handled to perfection and the sight was well worth seeing. The recruiting officers, who accompanied Mr. Nackle, departed themselves in a most creditable manner during their stay here, and the entire party left with the best wishes of Columbia and Adair county.

Future Oil Supply.

Excerpts from an editorial appearing in a late issue of the Oil City Derrick, Oil City, Pa., show that George Otis Smith, Director of the United States Geological Survey, in a paper which is to be read at the February meeting of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, calls attention to the fact that the consumption of crude oil is rapidly increasing, and that additional heavy demands will be made upon the supply with the advent of an American merchant marine. Drastic action, he says, must be taken to assure the United States oil supply, either by conserving the supply in this country against foreign encroachment or by encouraging American capital to enter foreign fields to assist in their development.

He further says that using more than one-third of a billion barrels of oil a year we are drawing not only from the underground pools, but also from storage, and both of these supplies are limited.

In quoting the estimate of Mark Requa made some two years ago that an increase of 52,000,000 barrels a year in crude oil output would be needed to meet the ordinary increase in consumption, and to offset the decline in old wells, Mr. Smith raises to 200,000,000 barrels annually, or almost four times the estimate of Mr. Requa.

These statements and figures confirm the statement made in an article appearing in a recent issue of the News wherein it was stated that the present demand for crude oil and petroleum products is so much larger than the supply, and the demand increasing fast, that it makes the business of crude oil production one of the best and most profitable to be found anywhere. We have the fields right at our door, and all that is needed to reap the harvest awaiting us is go down into your pockets and contribute your mite towards the expense of reaping. Will you be one of the "doers," or will you sit idly by and see the great opportunity disappear?

Effects of Constitutional Prohibition in United States.

Constitutional prohibition, effective at mid night tonight, and the enforcement legislation enacted by Congress, making the following provisions:

Declare unlawful the manufacture or of any beverage containing one-half of 1 per cent or more of alcohol.

Declare places where liquor is sold in violation of law to be common nuisances, abatable as such.

Search and seizure powers given prohibition enforcement officers, except for the search of private dwellings, unless used for the unlawful sale of intoxicants, or in part as places of business.

Liquor seized to be destroyed; vehicles and other property to be sold and proceeds paid into United States Treasury.

Advertising of liquor by any method prohibited.

Permit manufacture at home for personal use of non-intoxicating ciders and fruit juices. While "non-intoxicating" is not defined speciacally, the term "intoxicating" is construed by law to mean one-half of 1 per cent or more of alcohol.

Permit manufacture of alcoholic liquors for sacramental and medicinal uses, under restrictions.

Permit manufacture of alcohol for industrial and scientific uses. Permit possession of liquor in home if purchased before prohibition be came effective.

Physicians prohibited from prescribing alcoholic liquor for patient unless in good faith they believe it will afford relief from ailment. Not more than one pint can be prescribed in any month for one person.

Complete records of sales, including names of persons obtaining liquors, required of manufacturers and druggist.

Various penalties for violation fixed, the most severe being $2,000 fine and two years imprisonment.

Nearing the End.

Even the most unyielding opponent of the treaty of peace can hardly deny that the polls of the colleges and universities, including students and members of the faculties, is a fair index to the intelligent opinion of the country.

Out of the total of 29,910 votes there were only 3,153, a little than one-tenth, in favor of the total rejection of the treaty.

The Lodge reservations fared better than the programme of the Battalion of Death, but they too were decisively beaten, only 6,563 votes being recorded in their favor. There were 9,002 votes in favor of unqualified ratification of the treaty with the covenant of the League of Nation, and 11,182 in favor of the compromise that will make immediate ratification possible.

More than two-thirds of the total vote was cast by supporters of the treaty and the covenant either in the original form or with such compromise reservations as will enable two-thirds of the Senators to agree on resolution of ratification.

County Boards to Elect.

There is much discussion among politicians about taking the schools out of politics. If this could be done, all would give a hearty amen.

But the propositions that are being suggested by the solons at Frankfort simply centralize and crystalize the political opportunities.

To elect the State Superintendent by a State Educational Board to be appointed by the Governor does not take the head of the State school department out of politics, it simply takes the selection of the superintendent out of the hands of the people and places it in the hands of a few.

The few are so much more easily controlled politically than the many. It is the old time Republican doctrine of centralization under the guise of commission form of government.

Senator Robt. Antle introduced in the Senate this week a bill to have the county boards of education elect the county superintendents. The people elect the county boards and the county boards elect the superintendent. Does not every intelligent person know that by such action the political effort will be concentrated in the election of the county boards all over the State.

This government, both State and National, is being removed rapidly from the time-honored doctrine of our "Fathers," a government of the people, by the people and for the people."

We are opposed to any such radical change and our motto shall continue to be "Let the people rule."—Anderson County News.

You can well do so because these small Goodyear Tires are easy to obtain, being produced at the rate of 20,000 a day, and because their first cost usually is as low or lower than that of other tires in the same types and sizes.

Go to the nearest Goodyear Service Station Dealer for these tires, and for Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes. He supplies many other local owners of small cars.

DOINGS AT FRANKFORT.

The following bills have been introduced:

A bill to create the office of special Commonwealth's attorney.

To submit the question of woman suffrage to a vote of the people.

To eliminate party emblems from the ballot.

To pay a pension of $400 a year to persons who have reached 65 years of age and have no other income.

To abolish the office of Commonwealth's attorney and place the duties on the County Attorney.

To increase the Confederate pension to $25.00 per month.

There is but little politics to write at this time. Interest in the Presidential contest will not develop until after the national conventions, and there is but little going on at Frankfort. It is true a great many bills have been introduced, but most of them will be dropped in the basket during the latter days of the session. It may be that the Democratic candidates for Congress in the 8th district will make their announcements soon, and when the canvass opens there will be something doing.

No Democrat is likely to announce his candidacy for the Presidency until the peace treaty has been settled or finally rejected. Many prominent Democrats believe that the party can win by making the treaty the issue.

The drunkards are beginning to catch on. Only a few deaths last week from drinking wood alcohol. Several hundred had to die before the old toppers believed that it would kill.

It comes from Washington, D. C., that at this time there are seven avowed Republican candidates for the Presidency.

WHERE RESPONSIBILITY RESTS.

Whatever differences of opinion there may be as to the form in which the treaty of peace with Germany should be ratified, there is no question at all that the responsibility for affirmative, decisive action belongs to the United States Senate. The Republicans in that branch of Congress are bound to the extent of their control to take the initiative and restore the treaty to the category of subjects upon which the Senate is expected to act. They have subjects upon which the Senate is expected to act. They have at their command all the machinery of the Senate, including the Foreign Relations Committee, which they "packed" last spring to make sure that its report and determination with regard to the treaty should be in accord with the majority's plans and purposes.

In the hope of escaping their duty the Republican leaders in the Senate are pretending now to hesitate lest the majority's mode of ratification may fail of executive approval. This attitude might win more credence if it were not that these same leaders a few months ago made it a matter of boast that they cared nothing for the President's views except to criticize and reject them.

The demand for the ratification of the treaty has not only not abated but has grown steadily more general and insistent. The acceptance of the treaty by the former associates of the United States in the war and the resumption of diplomatic and commercial relations between those nations and Germany has left this country the only power at war with her. There can be no return to normal conditions—political, economic or financial—in this country until peace has been re-established in form as well as in substance.

It is the function and the duty of the Senate to bring about peace. It is the responsibility of the majority of the Senate to undertake the task. Playing politics has been a costly game for every interest of the nation. It promises to be equally costly for the Republican majority which has thus far used its predominance in the Senate not to promote but to jeopardize the honor and welfare of the United States.

Highland Park, Ky.

The weather is bad here. The streets were all covered with ice.

We were glad to read a letter from Sparksville and sure appreciate the words that the reporter past on me.

We are glad to note that police Murphy is doing his duty, and is liked by all the people here. The policemen have much better time than they use to when whisky was plentiful. It seems more like a town now, to see the little boys and girls that use to be in rags and dirt, when their father would take the money and buy it in whisky, now buys it in clothes and something to eat, and your scribe hopes it stays this way.

Work is plentiful here and high prices too, but anyone ought to save money, for they get good prices for their work.

We hope to see another letter from Sparksville and also from Weed.

I will close by saying that Highland Park is a fine place to live.

Elbert Wooten.

Editor News:

This is my first letter to The News. The weather is cold. It is zero now. The ground hasn't been clear of snow since Thanksgiving day. This is my first winter in the West. I like it fine. The children are going to school now. Their school will be out the 15 of May. Sales are the order of the day now and everything is high. Cows, $110 to $125, and horses not so high. Wages will be good for laboring men and lots of good places that need hired girls and good prices too. I am working at a place of only four in family and I get $9.00 per week. I work at house work, on a farm. I like the farm best. When I go to the town of Bloomington, I see lots of beautiful things. I have been to the Miller Park southwest of the town and there were all kinds of animals, but the ones that looked the best were the ostrich and the big black bear. I go to church almost every Sunday and I like it fine. There is some cases of pneumonia, and fever. I don't know when I will get back to Kentucky, but will come sometime to see my mother, Emma Blair, of Casey Creek, and my niece, Mrs. M. O. Ellis, of Garlin. I will close and try to write again some time.

Yours truly

Gertrude Blair.

Glensfork.

The mumps are well scattered throughout this community.

A few days ago the friends and neighbors of Mrs. Fannie Wesley gathered together in the afternoon and cut and sawed a nice lot of wood which was certainly appreciated by her. She takes this way of thanking each and everyone who so kindly assisted and especially her nephew, Olie Wilkinson, who got them together. A kind act is never forgotten and for each and everyone is more stars added to their crown. Those who assisted were Olie Wilkinson, Charlie Thomas, F. L. Thomas, Johnnie Grider and son, Earl, Otha Miller, Virgil Wesley, T. G. Thomas, Joe Morgan, Rollin Webb, Elmore and Willie Wilkinson.

Mr. W. H. Hammond has purchased the property recently owned by Mrs. Ada Kelsay at this place and has set up a stock of goods in the Chapman old stand. We welcome Mr. Hammonds and his estimable family to our town.

Mr. Willis Loy delivered a nice bunch of hogs to Phelps at Columbia last Thursday at 14 cts per pound.

Johnnie Grider bought of Virgil Wesley a nice span of mules for $150.

Ray Strange bought of Every Dudley last week a horse for $125. Dudley also bought a nice mare from Johnnie Grider price $125.

Roy.

We are having plenty of rain at this writing.

Born to the wife of G. L. Fitch Jan. 26th a 9 lb. boy, mother and infant doing nicely.

Mr. A. G. Bailey who has been in a low state of health for some time remains about the same.

Mr. Shelby Calhoun and family moved to their home near Concord the first of the year.

Mr. W. L. Floyd who went to Jeffersonville Ind., some time ago with his family have removed back home again.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Wilson of Ohio, visited their parents at this place during the Holidays.

A little son of Mr. and Mrs. Olie Conover who was quite sick several days ago is much better at this writing.

Mr. B. O. Hurt made a business trip to Campbellsville last week.

An infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Combest was buried at this place last week.

Mr. William Tucker has been confined to his home with bronchial trouble.

Heraline.

Mr. Josh Butler, one of our oldest citizens being in his eighties, who has been confined to his room two weeks, is again up and going. Am listening now every morning to hear him call the pigs in, better than a mile away, but hear him just the same.

Just in front of his home resides his sister, Mrs. Nellie Conover, who has seen more eighties than he, is well and up except for a fall some years back. If it were not for this she could mount a saddle horse and go into your city as of yore. May they both round out a century and more.

And the day that this writing should go to press a brother of these two, Col. Ed Butler if living would have been eighty seven years old having been born on Feb., 3rd, 1883 of a family of twelve. All have crossed the great divide excepting the two first mentioned, and James Butler and Mrs. Sallie Smith.

The farmers are all up active and preparing for the coming crop.

Geo. M. Cundiff has the blue ribbon for being the first with a tobacco bed.

S. C. Hood and Hebert Cundiff are the first to bring out the old turning plow and make a start.

Mont Harmon is doing big things. Making a considerable clearing, going to grow a large tobacco crop, and let me tell you he knows how and can deliver the goods any year.

Ed Hood still sits steady in his boat on the James Butler late farm, making good too, like Geo. Cundiff, 365 days to the year.

Bad Triplett and sons are making an additional clearing for more tobacco. Good growers too. Considerable sight to view Murrell Bros. farms, good buildings, fences, stacks of hay, good stock of all kinds. A look here shows energy and thrift combined. On the level, they are all around first-class lot of farmers as Adair has. Back down the road, stop at the Josh Butler farm, look around, and see if you want agree with me that this is an up-to-date, well kept, something doing here too, for the manager, Golan Butler, knows how. Next comes Champ Butler's farm, but I won't say anything about his farming, done said too much already. Now, this is not all of our farmers. Going to leave the others for next time.

The church has employed Eld. May for the year.

Cundiff & Butler still doing a satisfactory goods business.

W. H. Cundiff & Sons building wagons, shoeing horses, grinding corn at the same old stand.

Thrift is simply the application of intelligence to expenditure. Thrift does not mean only saving. Thrift means intelligent spending—To spend a dollar now may save two dollars next month. Thrift implies foresight—It means we can see tomorrow as well as today. The savage eats when he finds meat. He gorges and sleeps and between times starves. The civilized man lays up. In abundance he prepares against famine. Thrift implies self respect. We do not wish to become a burden upon others. Thrift means using your strength to protect your weakness, your health to take care of your sickness, your fortune to provide against your misfortune. Insurance is thrift—It is intelligent spending. An insurance premium today may save you many dollars next month. It is provision against misfortune. Are you insured?

Tobacco the Uncertain.

No crop produced keeps the grower in such unsettled frame of mind as does tobacco. The necessity of an early planting of the seeds always places the tender plants at the mercy of a late frost. The next period of unrest is the waiting for a good season for transplanting, when the soil has to be just right. Then comes the task of caring for each individual plant, to the grower it is not so many plants, every plant coming in for personal attention.

As the weeds ripens there must be ideal weather conditions to finish the crop; too much sun or too much rain working to the disadvantage of the product. Weather conditions must also be right for cutting, and the lateness of the crop makes the farmer think of the early frosts of the fall of the year.

When the tobacco is cut the troubles of the tobacco raiser are not over, the curing and the house burning propositions confront him and the waiting for suitable weather to strip makes him restless, if he wants to get the weed on market early. The most uncertain period however, in the production and sale of the tobacco, is when it goes over the brakes. It appears from the capers of tobacco market last year, and the unaccountable drop in prices since the first of the year, that the man with a tobacco crop can never rest easy until he gets the cash for his product, then it is time to worry again.

—E Town News.

The Mean Man.

Everybody knows the story about poor Tom Sharkey, who electrified the loungers in his saloon one day by saying heartily. "Well, boys, what are we going to have?" And then, as the loungers gathered round the bar he added, "Rain or Shine?"

Representative Gordon Lee of Chickamauga told of a story of a similar kind about a mean man at Atlantic City. Some friends visited him on a hot evening and after they had weltered a while in the sitting room he said:

"Well, friends, could you stand some refreshments?"

"We certainly could! the visitors replied, and they moistened their dry lips in pleasant anticipation.

"Then, said the mean man, rising, we'll open this window. There's promise of a breeze."

The faithful plodders, usually get there in the end, it is admitted. But, although you admire their grit, you consider them dumb because they are so slow. As a matter of fact they are not dumb, but they have a dumb way of going at their work. They must go all around an idea several times before they can approach it, to say nothing of assimilating it. The only thing such a person needs to practice is concentration. If you are a plodder, stop covering the same ground over and over, probably becoming so confused that you miss the point entirely in the end. Learn to think clearly and directly. Don't toy with an idea or decision, however unimportant it is because constant practice is the biggest factor in learning concentration.

Cruelty of Horse Dealers.

Until our laws are very much improved, so long will horse dealers continue to torture and and drug horses in order to deceive the public and to benefit their own pockets, says Major R. S. Timmis in "Modern Horse Management." I am most thankful to say that many of these wretched human parasites have had their business ruined through the advent of the motor—they may be trying their tricks upon the public with motor-cars, but even if they are, they will not be torturing dumb animals which have no defense.

Some horse dealers will do almost anything to a horse to prevent him from showing signs of lameness, or from showing bad tricks, or to make him appear high-spirited. Drugs are used to ease pain and to make a horse feel fresh; over-feeding on soft feed and want of exercise are resorted to to keep the horse fat and to make him feel fresh. Nerves are cut to hide lameness, and worst of all, a sound foot may be injured in order to make the horse go apparently sound on the unsound foot, i. e., by having both legs injured he cannot favor one leg.

I think the greatest enemy that the horse has is the horse dealer. What horse dealer will not mutilate the horse to any degree merely to suit a prevailing fashion or the foolish fancies of an ignoramus who wishes to buy a horse? All horse dealers' stables should be open to public inspection by the police and humane societies at all times; so should most large stables. For the horse's sake, the quicker the motor takes his place for commercial and showy purposes the better.

Don't carry your business grouch into your home. It's like taking muddy feet into a Chipendale drawing room. The advice doesn't preclude a sane discussion of troubles, for no man is above gleaning an unlooked for suggestion of value from the woman who keeps his household expenses properly within the limits of his income. For the same reason he has no right to come home disgruntled, throwing everything into a state of confusion, which his wife has to put in order after her day's work. He would not expect his business partner to bring him unfinished work at the close of the day. Besides, the amount of energy expended in blowing off steam, would fix the cause of the grouch so that it would never stick head above board again.

Madge's twin sister is much more serious minded than she and often scolds her for the tomboyish things she does. One day after one of these sisterly scoldings, Madge turned on her with, "My, but I wish I could get unscolded."

Co-operation seems to be on everyone's tongue these days. All our public spirited citizens tell us that co-operation is the medicine that will cure our disease of unrest—a new remedy just discovered. But co-operation is just another name for the Golden Rule and that is as old as the world. "Do unto others as you would that they should do unto you." The philosophers are correct—it is a positive cure for all our industrial troubles, but it is by no means a new discovery.

DIGESTION WAS BAD*Says 65 year Old Kentucky Lady, Who Tells How She Was Relieved
After a Few Doses of Black-Draught.

Meadersville, Ky.—Mrs. Cynthia Higginbotham, of this town, says: "At my age, which is 65, the liver does not act so well as when young. A few years ago, my stomach was all out of fix. I was constipated, my liver didn't act. My digestion was bad, and it took so little to upset me. My appetite was gone. I was very weak... I decided I would give Black-Draught a thorough trial as I knew it was highly recommended for this trouble. I began taking it. I felt better after a few doses. My appetite improved and I became stronger. My bowels acted naturally and the least trouble was soon righted with a few doses of Black-Draught."

Seventy years of successful use has made Thedford's Black-Draught a standard, household remedy. Every member, of every family, at times, need the help that Black-Draught can give in cleansing the system and relieving the troubles that come from constipation, indigestion, lazy liver, etc. You cannot keep well unless your stomach, liver and bowels are in good working order. Keep them that way. Try Black-Draught. It acts promptly, gently and in a natural way. If you feel sluggish, take a dose tonight. You will feel fresh tomorrow. The new minister in a Georgia church was delivering his first sermon. The darkey janitor was a critical listener from a back corner of the church. The minister's sermon was eloquent and his prayers seemed to cover the whole category of man's wants.

After the service one of the deacons asked the old darkey what he thought of the new minister.

"Don't you think he offers up a good prayer, Joe?"

'Ah mos, suhtainly does, boss.

The highest dam in the world is the Arrowrock dam at Boise, Idaho, a massive arch wedge of solid concrete, weighing more than 1,000,000 tons, which rises to a height of 351 feet between mountains a mile high. It was built in four years at a cost of $5,000,000. The artificial mountain lake backing it floods a canyon to a depth of 200 feet for a distance of 18 miles when filled to its capacity. The dam was built by the United States reclamation service as a great irrigation project.

Your scribe's school was out last Friday, on Melson's Ridge. We had a successful term, also good attendance. Melson's Ridge has the name of being a tough place, but we found as good people there as can be found in the county. Every one treated me with respect. We recommend it as a good school, for any teacher to teach.

There has been a lot of land trading here lately. Z. A. Hays exchanged farms, with Tilden Wheeler, who lived near Gradyville, Bruce Preston and Millard Corbin have bought farms, on Harvey Ridge. Evan Roberts bought Strong & Gowen's places here. Ernest Stotts bought of W. J. Bean 20 acres of land, for $300.

Mrs. Flora Rossen and children visited at W. S. Pickett's last week.

Miss Polly Reece, who has been making her home with your scribe, for the last five months, returned to her home, at Nell, a few days ago. We can recommend her to any one as being a good girl.

Mrs. Love Gabbert, the wife of M. C. Gabbert, of this place, died Jan., 1st. with a complication of diseases. She had been in bad health for a long time. She was 88 years of age, and had been a faithful member of the Baptist Church, at this place, since childhood. She leaves a husband and six children to mourn their loss. Love was a woman, who was liked by all who knew her. She will be greatly missed in the neighborhood. Your scribe extends to the bereaved husband and children his sympathy.

Mr. Belknap Pickett and his sister, Cytha, of Pyrus, visited here last Sunday night.

Rev. Scott a Baptist preacher, of Cool Spring, preached an interesting discourse here last Sunday. We are glad to know that he was called here, for this year. He is now carrying on a series of meetings at Antioch.

We are having lots of rain here now. A person can hardly get any where.

It is a boy, at Lee Sparks.

A woman whose husband had died went to a medium, who put her into communication with her late spouse. "John," said the woman, "are you happy now?" "I am very happy," replied the spirit of John. "Are you happier than when you were on earth with me?" asked the woman. "Yes," far happier than I was on earth with you." "Tell me, John, what is it like in Heaven?" asked the woman. "Heaven!" exclaimed John, I'm not in Heaven!"

Near East Relief Campaign Is On.

February is the time all over the United States.

Now is the time to finish our quota of $345 for this country.

Every church every Sunday School, every individual help save a life.

The case of Armenian and Syrian suffering is most desperate, Mr. Hoover says, in the world.

Report to Bank of Columbia. "All ready, fire!" Your humble, Ch.

B. T. Watson.

Listen to the following:

Conditions here in Armenia are terrible. There are houses full of unburied dead. A man walking through the streets the other day seemed to be carrying a sack, upon investigation it was found to be the dead body of a freshly killed man, which the bearer was carrying home to eat.

In another family a woman was found roasting the body of a baby. In other places children were seen cracking human bones and devouring the marrow.

If the American people could realize that it is a common thing all through Armenia to see children lying dead in the streets, and that the people are forced to eat each other, they would hate themselves for having any surplus money.

OVERWHELMING EVIDENCE FAST ACCUMULATING

Husband and Wife Both Find Relief from Their Troubles Thru Trutona.

Owensboro, Ky., Feb. 8.—Additional proof of the unusual merit to be found in Trutona, the Perfect Tonic, comes from Mr. and Mrs. Murray Jones, well-known people, who live at 811 Center Street. The story of the remarkable relief only adds to the already overwhelming evidence, fast accumulating in favor of Trutona.

"I was suffering from nervousness and severe headaches and Mr. Jones was troubled with rheumatism and constipation," Mrs. Jones said recently. "My husband suffered greatly from pains in his back. The pain in his hips was so bad at times that he could hardly sit down.

"We have been taking Trutona for several days now and we are both greatly improved. I have a much better appetite and sleep well at night, too, because my nerves are in such better condition. I'm not bothered with the headaches so much, either. Trutona has relieved Mr. Jones' rheumatism and constipation. We both think that Trutona is a wonderful medicine."

Trutona is now being introduced and explained in Columbia at the Paull Drug Company. Adv
